

To Our Valued Customers:

Please accept this opportunity to thank you for your business. Coming in May there are a couple of issues and events which you may find of interest.

Clawson Windows to Introduce NorthSlope window line. Monday, May 11th at 5:00 p.m. Byron Anderson of Clawson Windows will be at Madison Lumber Company to host an informative builder and homeowner seminar on the sustainable, locally manufactured, green and energy efficient NorthSlope Window. Refreshments will be provided.

These windows are made from small diameter larch logs typically considered waste. The lovely cinnamon colored end result comes from thinning projects across Montana. The logs are milled at Tricon Timber in St. Regis. From there, the wood is hauled to Mark Andrews' kiln near Corvallis, then to East Missoula where the millwork is produced at Burnich Frame and Moulding.

Madison Lumber Company to unveil a new website. In early May Madison Lumber Company's website, will take on a new look. There will be links to over 300 different product manufacturer's websites, which contain product style choices, colors, warranties, etc. The product pictures are of Madison Valley homes and feature the work of Madison Valley builders. We hope that you will consider this site as a valuable business tool.

The new website also features an important contractor's link. Please contact us with your website address and it will be linked next to your name. Those who don't currently have a website, please contact me regarding the cost and design of a link to a page with pictures of your products and your company information within our website.

Thank you again for your support of Madison Lumber Company.

Sincerely,

Nancy Lien Griffin
